Product Description

The Altair Large LED Suspension Light is an elegant and captivating lighting fixture inspired by the flowing skirt of a ballerina. Suspended from a round canopy by a single wire, the shade of this modern suspension light is made from layers of patented material Lentiflex® arranged in a sinuous and sophisticated manner. Upon one of the folds is a delicate crystal water drop that emphasizes the softness of the decorative pendant light. When illuminated, light shines from three separate LED light sources creating diffused, ambient lighting and direct lighting. To create an ambient effect the lamp shines light upwards towards the ceiling, while single light sources along the central stem light the fixture from the inside. The final LED light source points downwards casting direct light below. Ideal for use in both residential and commercial settings. Dimmable.

Lentiflex®: Polycarbonate material made using a particular manufacturing technique that makes the surface "multifaceted", as if it were formed from many little prisms.
